

Margit Sky Project

Roots, Rock & Celtic

With Margit's vocals and rhythm guitar and Rod's jaw dropping lead guitar, they have become a very sought after duo in the BC Interior.

The Margit Sky Project has been fortunate enough to open for Kevin Costner and Modern West, Burton Cummings, Barney Bentall, Elliot Brood and Ridley Bent. They will be opening for Trooper in August 2017 at Sun Peaks.

Margit and Rod are very passionate about their music and released their first CD together in 2015, It's Been So Long. Their second CD is currently in the works. Keep an eye on these two...they are an incredibly dynamic duo with a very bright future.

MARGIT GOSSAGE – Raised in Toronto and then Vancouver, Margit grew up listening to rock, folk and classical music. Her parents loved all kinds of music and played their stereo constantly.

After moving to Kamloops in 1992, Margit built a successful career as a local musician and hasn't looked back since her first gig at Sun Peaks Resort.

ROD BANDURA – Rod's First Nations name is Little Sky and he started playing guitar at age 10 in Vancouver. Rod was playing in bands at age 16 and hasn't stopped.

Rod was a part of the indigenous band, Waskesu in the mid 1990's. They had the pleasure of playing for the Prime Minister and at the Commonwealth Games in Victoria along with Susan Aglukark and Kashtin. They also had quite a few appearances on Much Music.
